Introduction

Born in sunny Singapore, Ming Leong is a recent illustration graduate (Class of 2017) from RISD (Rhode Island School of Design). Ming loves to delve into intricate drawings and solving problems with a simple pencil. In addition, Ming enjoys relief printmaking, papermaking, ships and sails, playing games, cooking and eating. Currently, Ming is figuring a way around New York as a freelance illustrator/designer.

Collaboration with Hai Sia

Yu is a postcard, designed for the Takeaway series by Hai Sia Seafood.

Yu is a condensed interpretation of Jurong Fishery Port. The process of what happens to a fish at Jurong Fishery Port is like writing the strokes of the character yu. It starts off with the fishing boats pulling into the harbour, to fish being brought onto land, the bustling Central Fish Market and finally the carpark where the trucks are preparing to head out for morning delivery - the essence of Singapore's oldest fishery port.
